Base prepares for week-long strike, services to be affected

Heather King Navarrete
Rota Coastline

With nearly 1,000 Spanish employees expected to strike next week, base officials are drawing up contingency plans to compensate for the loss of a quarter of Naval Station, Rota's manpower, April 2-7. The severity of the impact on customer service depends on how many of the employees choose to participate in the strike line, said base officials.

"I don't think anybody knows what will happen, until it happens," DGF Vice-Principal Phyllis Ennasri said, echoing the sentiments of many community members.

Despite the uncertainties, major base services will be closed and reduced service hours for facilities throughout the base are unavoidable. Base officials are instructing the community to remain calm and stay informed throughout the strikes, despite possible inconveniences.

"[The strikes] are a given right to put light on their cause and their issue and we should respect that because they have a legitimate complaint," said Lt. Dave Kush, Naval Station's security officer. "But, people need to understand that they will be held responsible for their own actions - on both sides of the picket line."

The strikers. Spanish employees are engaging in this week-long strike to contest a 5 - 25 percent decrease in take-home pay, after the Spanish government taxed a previously untaxed portion of their pay in January 2000. As many as 1,000 (out of 1,250) Spanish personnel are eligible to participate in the strike. An average of about 850 people participated in the partial strikes over the past two weeks, said Rondy Waye, director, Human Resources Office. The Spanish constitution acknowledges the right of workers to strike in defense of their interests, but by law, a pre-approved list of employees deemed 'essential personnel,' cannot participate in the strikes. Striking is optional, said Waye, and any Spanish employee choosing to work during the strikes

Rota decontaminates four aircraft in fight against foot-and-mouth disease

Officials expect more flights to be affected

JO2 Ricky Allen
Rota Coastline

In an effort to keep foot-and-mouth disease from spreading to Spain, the Spanish government has mandated that aircraft, cargo and crews arriving from the United Kingdom, Ireland, France and the Netherlands undergo a decontamination process when landing on Spanish territory.

Since the mandate was released last week, the Naval Base has decontaminated four aircraft - three C-130's and the station's C-12 - and nearly 60 crewmembers and passengers.

"The process takes two hours to complete," said ABH1 Rex Pieper, leading petty officer of the Air Operation's command post.

The process includes an initial decontamination of the aircraft's wheels and wheel-well applied as soon as the aircraft lands. The aircraft is then directed to taxi through a heavy to medium pressure fresh-water rinse and then proceed to its designated ramp.

Once there, the passengers and crews' shoes and baggage are decon-

Anti-NATO demonstration scheduled for this Sunday

Fifteen anti-NATO and anti-nuclear activist groups are expected to participate in the 16th Annual March to Rota, April 1.

The march starts in El Puerto de Santa Maria and culminates at the Fuentebavia Gate and is expected to last from around noon to 3 p.m. Last year, 600 to 700 demonstrators took part in the march and event organizers claim that this year, an even larger group will participate.

Base officials encourage personnel to avoid the area from Fuentebavia to El Puerto between noon and 3 p.m. If in the area, take common sense measures to avoid conflict with demonstrators.

PSD loses position, 41 functions to be farmed out

A meeting was held Wednesday to determine how the base will absorb the loss of a billet in the passport and visa section at Personnel Support Detachment (PSD), a position that carried out 41 different functions for base personnel.

"Due to manpower constraints and mission requirements, the realignment of these functions was necessary," said Lt. Cmdr. Jim Felty, officer-in-charge, PSD.

The position, formerly held by MS1 Steven Michaud, provided among other things: no-fee and tourist passports; official and immigrant

CMC CORNER

CMDMC(SW) Israel Melendez
COMNAVACT Command Master Chief

As most of you know, the Navy Marine Corps Relief Society Fund Drive has been going on for some time now and the traditional Radiothon was held last week. This year's event raised more than $10,000 in pledges, which surpassed last year's total by more than $1,000.

This year the honor of being the command with the greatest amount of pledges goes to NSGA who contributed $2,783, followed by NAVSTA who pledged $2,385.

I truly appreciate the efforts of PCCS Comins, JOCs Guillebeau, PC1 Rivera, CTT1 Delbridge, JO2 Deatherage, the NMC staff, and all the volunteers who provided their time and effort in support of the radiothon.

This is truly a community event which goes towards supporting our service members and their families. Thank you all very much for giving so much to this worthy cause.

The good weather has arrived and we are all very thankful to be able to enjoy it. With the sunshine comes the desire to participate in the many outdoor activities available to us. One of the areas that concerns me as a result of this is that many of our children and young Sailors will be out and about riding their mopeds. I just want to take this time to stress that safety comes first when riding. I urge you all to ensure that you think safety first and make sure that you wear the required safety equipment and follow the NAVSTA regulations for operating mopeds.

If you have any questions or concerns about this, please contact or stop by the Security Department to ensure you become familiar with the rules.

I also want to thank the Seabees for inviting my wife and me to their birthday ball this past weekend. It was a great event which we enjoyed very much. You executed the function in true Seabee fashion. Bravo Zulu!

Finally, I would like to say that it has been six months since my family and I reported onboard and I must tell you that I continue to be impressed by the great work that we as a military community are doing. There is a great deal of camaraderie and team work that goes into the daily operation of this facility and we, along with our Spanish host, are doing great work together.

In some ways it feels like I have been here forever. I want to thank you all for integrating us into your community and making us feel welcome.

Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon

The Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon will be held April 4 at 12:30 p.m. at the Residencia de Suboficiales. The price for non-volunteer attendees will be $9.00. Checks should be made payable to the Fleet and Family Support Center community appreciation booster club. Persons who have already paid by check written to MWR Reflections do not have to pay again. The deadline for RSVPs has been extended to Friday, March 30. The menu has changed to buffet style and attendees will select from a variety of Spanish dishes. Winners of the Volunteer of the Year and Helping Hand of the Year awards will be announced. Attire for military personnel will be service dress blues.

LOOKING BACK

Mar. 31, 1961 Rotando reported: Children under the age of ten must be accompanied by an adult at all times at the NAVSTA Theater.

Mar. 31, 1971 El Rotando reported: Captain's Call Question: Can we have a physical fitness program here? We are all out of shape. Answer: If there is enough interest we will start a program.

Mar. 27, 1981 Jack Tar reported: Veterinary services is now selling vaccines and de-worming medication for horses.

Mar. 22, 1991 Coastline reported: More than one-million dollars in appropriated funds were cut from the MWR budget this year.

Mar. 20, 2000 Coastline reported: At least 11 Rota members were affected by a Portsmouth, Va. warehouse fire.

European-Junior Science and Humanities Symposium

Five students represented DGFHS at the recent European-Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, held March 8-10 in Brussels, Belgium. Aaron Kinghorn and Billy Adamo participated in the Senior Poster competition with their project entitled "Current studies of the Bay of Cadiz." They took first place, winning a $200 prize along with their gold certificate. Beth Ann Patti, Maggie Buckles and Kaitlyn Valente were in the Junior Poster competition with their entry on "Carbon Dioxide, a Test of Fitness." They took home a bronze trophy for their efforts. The projects the students presented were the culmination of months of hard work, starting last fall. They were competing against other DoDDS students as well as students from international schools in Europe.

should be able to do so without harassment or violence.

"The command will not tolerate any illegal or inappropriate activity," said Wayne. "Any cases of harassment, violence, or property damage should be reported via the chain of command, and to the base security."

Be prepared. Personnel who will be entering and exiting the base should become familiar with alternate routes.

"It is imperative that all employees report to work as scheduled," said Wayne.

Know where the Puerto Gate, Rota Gate, Fuentebavia Gate, Old Jerez Road Gate, and Venta Vaca Gate are located. Maps are available at the Public Affairs Office, or through the chain of command. Personnel may need to access an alternate gate, if gate closures ensue.

Drivers should make sure their automobile insurance is up-to-date, said Lt. Cmdr. Rich Schwartz, Naval Station's Staff Judge Advocate. Although drivers will receive fair market value for minor damages a vehicle incurs while crossing the picket line, a driver must be properly insured, said Schwartz.

"Check with your insurance company to find out what type of insurance you have, because this is a gratuitous payment statute, not a substitute for insurance," he said. "People will not be completely made whole."

Stay informed. Listen to HOT 102.5 FM to keep informed. Navy journalists will be airing information about gate closures, store and restaurant closures, and school and daycare information.

At the gates. American personnel should remain calm and professional while entering and exiting the gates, said Kush.

"I'm very impressed by how patient the Spanish employees have been with this situation," he said. "They are some of the most dedicated employees I've worked with, but they have a serious problem on their hands, and if pushed, their emotions may trigger something. You don't want to anger an already frustrated crowd."

If protestors begin blocking the gate, turn around and go to a different gate, Kush said. In dire emergencies, when medical attention must be sought immediately, wave a white cloth out of the car window and the crowd will let you pass, he said.

"This is only in life-or-death situations," said Kush, "because if people start abusing that system, it might not be honored in a dire emergency."

If an altercation should arise, call the Security Department at ext. 2000 or 2001.

"No person, regardless of nationality or employment status, deserves to be put in a situation where they feel threatened or should have to undergo physical abuse or property damage," Kush said. "If that happens, notification needs to be made to the local police and the base security office."

Property damage. If property damage is sustained, or vandalism occurs, report it to security and file a claim at the Staff Judge Advocate's office.

Around base. The Navy Exchange (NEX) will be forced to close services and reduce store hours due to expected manpower shortfalls, while Morale, Welfare, and Recreation (MWR) services will close down facilities and reduce hours of operation to comply with sanitation codes, which will be hard to maintain with a limited janitorial staff.

DGF schools expect to be able to offer lunches and hold classes as normal, with the help of volunteers, said Ennasri. Anyone interested in volunteering can call the school's office at ext. 4185.

The Hospital will continue all health services normally provided, said Ensign Richard Gilliard, public affairs officer, Naval Hospital, Rota.

"We do not anticipate any disruptions in our services in patient care, unless some major issue arises," he said.

In the Housing area, residents are being asked to put off all trouble calls unless they are emergent, and to monitor trash collection.

If contractors can't gain access to the base, trash collection services will be affected, said Bob Crist, deputy director, Housing.

The Self-Help and the Facilities office will be closed, and the Main Housing office will operate under reduced hours, said Crist. With two employees running the office, he is urging customers to use discretion before utilizing their services.

"We had to cut our hours, so if it can wait," he said, "please let it wait."

Refer to the list of affected services on page 7.

Base plans for Tiger Day 2001, April 6

JO2 Ricky Allen
Rota Coastline

Base commands are getting their sites ready for the community-wide event to be held April 6.

Tiger Day events and displays will show children the different aspects of the military and will let the children see what their parents do at work.

The events kicks off at 11 a.m. at the base Galley with a luncheon. Children are able to use their DGF meal passes to eat while parents pay the regular galley price.

Afterwards, people can catch the Rota train to the Tow Way road where children ages 12 and under can participate in a fun run. T-shirts displaying the Tiger Day logo will be provided by AT&T. Naval Security Group Activity, Rota, Spain, will also supply medals for the runners this year.

VQ-2 and NSGA will be open for public visiting this year, supplying transportation from the Tow Way.

However, while kids venture from each of the command sites, remember a couple of safety tips to make the day a success without mishap. Parents should make sure the kids drink lots of fluids throughout the day and wear plenty of sunscreen to prevent sunburn. The alternate date for bad weather is April 13.

The event is held in April because April is the month of the military child, and is recognized as National Child Abuse Month.

Participants for Tiger Day, Apr. 6 Tow Way, 1:30- 4 p.m.

Port Ops	Boat displays, games for children
NSWU-10	Whalers w/stairs, weapons, machine guns w/blanks, parachutes, diving equipment
Chapel	Bubbles, colored rice, play dough, interactive activities, literature
AMC	Caseta, 300-500 earplugs for Harrier demonstration, recruiting information, display of C-5 or C-141 (depending on schedule)
FFSC	Bubbles, buttons and magnets, pencils
MCSF	Paint balls with targets, weapons with blank ammunition, cammie face painting
Hospital	Ambulance for display, Dental games, toothbrushes, pencils
EOD	Bomb robot, static display, sandbox with buried landmines, Demolition display, TBD
Security	Air conditioned tents, deployable kennel display, crime prevention, lost and found, military working dogs, McGruff, Vid-A-Kid program
NSGA	Computer display, fiber glass bull for picture taking, dunk tank
NEMOC	Balloon launch, display of mobile team gear, smart board, satellites, forecaster
RAWL	Adoption information, animals on display, baked goods
AT&T	T-shirts, balloons, train
MWR	Fun run, golf carts, tents for rest areas, free gatorade and Kool Aid tables, and chairs
VQ-2	Shuttle available for transit to and from VQ-2 Open House, static displays, P-3, pictures on badges

MILITARY NEWS

Thrift Savings Plan begins Oct. for service members

Service members can begin to sign up for the Thrift Savings Plan beginning Oct. 9, 2001, DoD officials said.

The Thrift Savings Plan is a retirement and investment plan that has been available to civilian government workers since 1987. Congress extended the plan to include service members in 2000.

"It's in addition to your regular retirement," said Army Lt. Col. Tom Emswiler, a tax expert with DoD's Office of Military Compensation. "It's an optional program."

The open season for signing up will run from Oct. 9 to Dec. 8. Deductions start in January 2002. In 2002, service members can contribute up to 7 percent of their basic pay. The maximum amount service members can contribute from basic pay will change. The current limit of 7 percent of basic pay will rise to 10 percent by 2005 and become unlimited in 2006.

Unlike civilians, who cannot make lump-sum payments into the program, service members may also contribute all or a percentage of any special pay, incentive pay, or bonus pay they receive.

The total amount generally cannot exceed $10,500 for the year. Contributions from pay earned in a combat zone do not count against the $10,500 ceiling. Combat zone contributions are subject to a different limitation, however, 25% of pay or $35,000, whichever is less.

Like civilian employees in the program, service members must choose how they want their money invested. Right now, there are three funds to choose from. The funds run the gamut of safe — the G Fund invests in special government bonds — to riskier investments — the C Fund tied to the stock market. There is also an F Fund for investing in commercial bonds.

TSP will unveil the new S and I funds in May. S Fund investments go to a stock index fund that paces small businesses. I Fund investors will track international companies the same way.

"Because bonuses are hard to predict, if you are already participating in the plan and contributing from basic pay and you receive, for example, a re-enlistment bonus, you can elect to contribute at any time," Emswiler said.

Contributions to the plan come from "pre-tax" dollars. Service members pay no federal or state income taxes on contributions or earnings until they're withdrawn.

The services will have teams visiting members to explain the program. Until then, see the thrift plan's uniformed services page at <http://www.tsp.gov/uniserv/index.html> for more information.

VQ-2 awarded Battle "E"

Story by JO2 Ricky Allen
Rota Coastline

Fleet Air Reconnaissance Squadron Two (VQ-2) was recently awarded the Battle Efficiency Award for fiscal year 2000. This was their second consecutive year winning the award.

"This was an all-hands effort. It was a year of hard work with everyone contributing as a team," said Cmdr. Kevin B. Sherman, commanding officer, VQ-2.

VQ-2 achieved a 90% success rate for all scheduled launchings with one plane last year, and the command was also chosen by the Navy to test run two prototype reconnaissance aircraft. VQ-2 Sailors logged in more than 5,000 hours for FY-00.

Those amount of hours were flown by three planes, and the typical flight hours other commands fly are with nine planes.

VQ-2 had flown to seven different airfields throughout the year and re-opened a detachment in South America for the first time in 16 years.

VQ-2's change to sea duty last year left 180 billets unavailable, making the crew of more than 400 people adjust to an increased work load and training. The chain of command at VQ-2 did a good job in adjusting the pace in order to maintain qualified personnel, and to complete missions, Sherman said. "I think this was a very important element because this made everyone work harder. With this, the level of training, work, and performance increased."

Sherman added, "VQ-2 could not have done the job they did, or have won the award without the cooperation of Naval Security Group Activity, Rota, Spain."

E-mail discipline defined

E-mail is a vital communications tool for today's Navy, but the convenience of e-mail is sometimes offset by its ability to rapidly and widely disseminate information to unintended audiences. The availability and ease of use of e-mail makes it as convenient as a conversation, but in reality, e-mail is a very different kind of dialogue:

- E-mail is not transitory and does not disappear like a verbal exchange.
- E-mail is not private and can easily be forwarded and modified beyond the control of any individual.
- E-mail lacks the full context of human interaction and can easily be misinterpreted.

NIPRNET E-mail is official communication and subject to monitoring, long term storage, and potential release under the Freedom of Information Act, and most importantly, NIPRNET E-mail is by definition unclassified.

Every NIPRNET E-mail user must understand and ascertain the following before sending NIPRNET E-mail:

- It must be unclassified
- E-mail should not contain information covered under the Privacy Act regarding anyone in the Navy.
- Conform to Navy policy. Navy policy prohibits racist, sexist, threatening, pornographic, personal business, subversive or politically partisan communications, and also provides guidance on a wide range of information relating to navy operations that are intended to remain non-public for operations security (OPSEC) reasons.

OPSEC is clearly a standard against which E-mail must be measured. Navy tactics, techniques, and procedures in support of national policy are weakened to the extent that a potential adversary gains knowledge of them. Information regarding Navy operations should always be viewed from the perspective of operational security. There is a clear connection between NIPRNET E-mail and force protection.

Descriptions of events that occur may in themselves, or in conjunction with other information, compromise operational missions, capability data, or damage assessments. In addition, information obtained from an open source may in fact be classified and citing or commenting on it may be viewed as confirmation of the validity of the open source data. If in doubt, consult the chain of command and err on the side of caution.

E-mail communication which emanates from government spaces and on government computers, whether organizational or individual in nature, reflects directly on the command. In short: E-mail, like any other form of communication, reflects upon the professionalism of the command and the Navy. All hands are accountable and must act accordingly.

CONUS TRICARE Dental

One very important predeparture stop for service members returning to the U.S. should be the United Concordia Companies Inc., (UCCI) web site at www.ucci.com in order to accomplish an online enrollment in the TDP. Returning service members who sign up for the TDP before their departure for the U.S. ensure that they will have the insurance in place and effective on the date they arrive back in the U.S. Those sponsors retiring or separating within one year, who wait to enroll until they are back in the U.S., run the risk of not having the necessary 12-months retainability required for enrollment. Enrollment while they are still overseas will prevent a last-minute rush to get this accomplished within the 12-month time constraint.

The TRICARE Dental Program is a valuable benefit for active duty family members, Reservists and Guard members and their families. This program enables eligible beneficiaries to access civilian dental providers, helping them maintain good oral health. It is important that military members consider the many benefits of this program and decide if their families should be enrolled in the TDP. UCCI, the dental insurer, operates both the CONUS and the OCONUS Program, therefore the program is completely portable with beneficiaries having coverage to the extent of their benefits.

The best way to prevent dental problems is to get good yearly dental checkups. The TDP enables military beneficiaries to do this in a cost-efficient way. Don't miss out on this opportunity.

Gonzalez, Guillebeau, earn Girl Scouting Silver Awards

Blanca Gonzalez and Trish Guillebeau, two Cadette Girl Scouts, took another step down their paths to a defined womanhood. On March 12, they received their Silver Awards.

The Silver Award is the highest award a girl in Cadette Girl Scouting can attain. To earn this recognition, the girl must earn numerous Interest Project Patches, the Leadership Pin and Patch, the Dreams to Reality Patch, and the Cadette Girl Scout Challenge Pin, which all take a lot of time and effort. After these things are completed the girls must also choose a major project, which they will plan and carry out. Each project can take its own shape, depending on each girl's plans.

Blanca Gonzalez, a Rota Girl Scout for eight years, carried out her project at the Women's Forum in September, where she was in charge of the babysitting service, the first aid station, and an information booth. She learned about each area she would be dealing with, exercised her delegation skills, and did some major volunteer recruitment.

Trish Guillebeau, in Girl Scouts for 10 years, planned and carried out her project at her last Girl Scout Council in Bahrain. In preparation for her project she earned CPR and First Aid certifications, practiced public speaking and worked with younger children, teaching them different things through short dramatized scenes. All the skills she learned were tied together into an informative Safety Play for younger children.

Both girls earned knowledge and experience for themselves while at the same time benefiting their communities. They demonstrated leadership skills, dedication and commitment high above the call of duty.

Marcia Zimmerman to visit Rota

The Phi Delta Kappa International Educators Association from DGF cordially invites you to attend a workshop presented by Marcia Zimmerman, a researcher, author, and lecturer with over 27 years of experience in the field of nutrition. Ms. Zimmerman is the author of, "The ADHD Nutrition Solution: A Drug-Free Thirty Day Plan." The book is a culmination of more than five years of research and over sixty lectures on nutritional intervention for attention deficit hyperactive disorders. Although the information is geared toward people with AD/HD, it is also beneficial information for everybody. Her book was released in May 1999, and since then, Ms. Zimmerman has appeared on some of the top radio and T.V. talk shows in the country. To share her views, she has conducted workshops for doctors, counselors and teachers on using nutrition to combat AD/HD. For more information, you may check her website at www.thenutritionalsolution.com.

Ms. Zimmerman will present two workshops on Tuesday, April 17, in the MPR at the school. The first session will be 2-3 p.m., with information for the family. The second session will be from 3:45-5:45 p.m., with an educational/scientific emphasis. You are welcome to join us for either or both sessions.

For more information, please contact Linda Hill or Sue Bosler at 956-82-4185. If you would like to attend, please RSVP to Louise_Mueller@eu.odedodea.edu or Linda_Hill@eu.odedodea.edu.

Not “why” but “when”

Have you ever wondered why bad things happen to good people? Harold Kushner did. Kushner is a rabbi and about 20 years ago he and his wife lost their teenage son to a disease called progeria. It's a rare disease that rapidly ages the body. When he died, their teen-age son died like an old man.

And Kushner asked the question we all ask: why? Why do bad things happen to good people? His question—and his grief—resulted in a book that made the bestseller list. But it wasn't entitled, “Why Do Bad Things Happen to Good People?” There just isn't a good answer to the question, “why”. Not “why”, but “when”. When bad things happen to good people, what then? How do we respond? How does that experience affect us, and how do we grow through it?

I can't speak for you, but I know that in my own life I grow more through tough times than when things come easy. I don't like it and I don't know why it is, but when it happens it turns me back to God and his grace and strength.

When bad things happen to good people like you and me, how do you respond? It's natural to ask, “Why?” But in the long run, it's a lot more helpful to ask, “Now what?” How can I grow through this experience?

The Bible says that there is a time for everything: a time to cry, and a time to laugh, a time to mourn, and a time to rejoice. Perhaps, when the mourning is over, the time for joy will come.

Brown Bag on Semana Santa

March 30, 12 - 1 p.m.

Semana Santa is said to be the most extravagant and the most solemn of the year's religious celebrations. During this week each Andalusian town celebrates the passion of Jesus Christ. Beginning on Palm Sunday and ending on Easter Sunday, each town will have a series of religious processions whereby floats are decorated with flowers, candles, and life size statues which portray a particular scene of the Christian passion story. Come to this Brown Bag seminar to hear more about Semana Santa and how you can experience this cultural tradition.

Parent Support Group

April 2, 4 - 5 p.m.

Children don't come with instructions! Living overseas presents even more challenges for parents. The parent support group meets at the FFSC. Bring your child/children, and get support for the most important job of your life: parenting!

Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon

April 4, 12:30 p.m.

The Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon will be held at Recidencia

Suboficiales (Spanish Enlisted Club). Winners of the "Volunteer of the Year" and "Helping Hand of the Year" awards will be announced. Attire for military personnel will be service dress blues. The menu will include: roasted pig; chicken breast with lemon; meat/fish; croquettes; breaded shrimps; fried fish (hake); cured ham; paellas grandes; tortillas espanolas; vegetarian meals available as required; beer; sodas; bottle of wine; tinto verano. RSVP for the luncheon to the volunteer coordinator, Fleet & Family Support Center, by March 30.

Tiger Day

April 6, 11 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Kids get a chance to see what their parents do at work! Come to the tow-way road and participate in all the fun festivities. Ride the Rota train from the Galley. Join the family fun! Rain date: April 13.

Spanish Classes

Spring Term: April 23 - May 31

Registration for Spanish classes will be April 9. This term, beginning and intermediate classes are available. Classes are held Monday - Thursday. Beginning Classes: 9:15 - 10:15 a.m. Intermediate Classes: 3:30 - 4:30 p.m.

ICR

ICR is cancelled April 9 - 13 in recognition of Holy Week.

This week we have an insert from NORAUTO, the largest auto parts and accessories store in Jerez, with more than 1,000 square meters of sales-room space. They also have a mechanic shop with while-you-wait service. In NORAUTO you can find everything from oil, exhaust systems, sound systems, loud speakers, and tires to all you need for tune-ups. Take a look at the insert to get an idea of what they have to offer and the prices, then stop by and get acquainted. NORAUTO is located in the Jerez Industrial Park, next to Leroy Merlin. They are open Monday to Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m.

This week we also have ads for two great shops in Puerto: Curuba and Persia. Persia is located on Avda. del Ejército, near the bullring and specializes in Persian carpets. Right now they are having a big clearance sale to make room for new merchandise. In addition to Persian carpets, they have rugs made of jute, pure wool, sisal and coconut. Also, they have a special offer for weddings...they will provide a Persian carpet for the altar and a red carpet for the aisle. Ask about it. Curuba is located farther down, right near the Plaza de la Noria. The shop is done in very good taste and you will find exquisite gifts and household items at the right price. There is porcelain from Germany, Portugal and Spain as well as auxiliary pieces of furniture (more furniture is available by catalog order). Most of the things are very affordable and Marta, the owner, is very helpful with gift suggestions. It's a great little shop - definitely one of my favorites.

Last week we did visit the olive oil plant in Olvera, as planned and really enjoyed it thanks to our guide, Juan. He put on a real show! Actually, he is the head of their quality control laboratory, but should have considered an acting career. If you are thinking of visiting the cooperative this spring, I recommend you call first since the olive season will soon be coming

This past weekend, we went to Motril in the province of Granada. It is well situated for a visit to Granada, since it is only 70 kilometers away and the road is good. We stayed in the Gran Hotel de Motril and I can sincerely recommend it. It is right on the beach, the rooms are big, there is an indoor heated pool, a Jacuzzi and saunas. The hotel takes Bancotel coupons so the price is right, too. Breakfast is not included, but they serve a really good buffet style breakfast for only 775 pesetas. The staff is very friendly and helpful.

NAVSTA, Rota celebrates 'Women with Courage and Vision'

JO2 Ricky Allen, Rota Coastline

More than 50 people attended the Women's History Month program held at Reflections, Mar. 14.

"From the comments people told me, and from what I overheard, everyone enjoyed the program," said Kathy Donner, one of the coordinators of the program.

The program, "Celebrating Women with Courage and Vision," featured Spanish and American speakers giving thoughts on women's contributions.

Many who attended the program, such as YN2 Barbara Payne, admin/department, Naval Station, Rota, said the program was very informative.

"I felt that it was well organized, and it gave me information I didn't know before. I am glad that I came," she said.

Sandra Schlosser, personnel support branch manager, Housing Welcome Center

Plasencia, Northern Extremadura,

Photos and story by
PH1(AW) Ron Heppner

With a population of about 30,000, Plasencia is not a big city, but it has the uniquely distinctive flavor found in any Extremaduran city.

From the train station, Plasencia really doesn't look like much. It is situated in the Sierra de Gredos and the city is surrounded by sloping, rocky hills. There are no signs to follow or any logical flow to the streets, so I wound up walking in circles and met several dead-ends. After walking around lost, while trying to find the center of town, I finally asked directions.

In the city's central plaza, a statue clutches the side of the bell tower and pounds the bell every half-hour. A stop at the tourist office led me to the Zona Monumental. The Zona Monumental is a well-marked walking route that takes you past the most impressive of Plasencia's many landmarks. On the route are also parts of the old city wall that were constructed between 500 - 800 years ago. In some places parts of the wall are crumbling, exposing the myriad of building materials used throughout the ages.

The central plaza (Plaza Mayor) is ringed with bars and restaurants and is perfect for tapa-hopping. Remember, in Extremadura every time you order a drink you get a free tapa. The really cool part about the free tapas is where ever you go they offer something different. I went back to one bar a couple times because I really liked the soft goat cheese that they served. I told the bartender that the cheese reminded me of buffalo mozzarella, but he scowled at me and I think he said, "No way, this is much better." In Extremadura tourism isn't prevalent like it is in Andalucia, and very little English is spoken.

I found a comfortable hotel on a side street off the Plaza Mayor to spend the night. Using my Spanish dictionary, I put in an early wake-up call, and asked the innkeeper to call a taxi at 6:15 a.m., since the only train from Plasencia would leave at 7 a.m.

In the morning, I started early and went down to the hotel's restaurant for a coffee and asked about the taxi. The friendly innkeeper replied, "No problema." As the minutes ticked by I frantically pestered the innkeeper about the cab. He finally indicated that nobody was answering the phone for a cab and he shooed me out the door and told me to go to the police station. Once there, I frantically tried to explain to the police that I had to be at the station by 7 a.m. They woke up a guy who was sleeping in an alley and shouted at him. The guy grumbled, got up, and told me to follow him. I thought, thank heavens, they found the cab driver. But, after we got a few blocks from the police station, the guy bummed a cigarette from me and flailed his arms while trying to tell me where the train station was. Then he took off in the other direction.

With 10 minutes to spare, I stormed off at a brisk, annoyed pace, and somehow I found the train station. I jumped on the train, and 15 seconds later it left.

While Plasencia's sites and goat cheese are well worth the visit, I wouldn't count on the cabs.

WEEKEND MOVIES

FRIDAY, MAR. 30

The Hard Way - A hard-bitten New York police detective finds himself saddled with a superficial new partner when he's assigned to show a spoiled movie star what a cop's life is really like. Starring James Woods, Michael J. Fox, Annabelle Sciorra, and Stephen Lang. (130 min, Action Comedy, 1992, TV-PG) ATL, PAC, KOR
0105

Barbarella - Long before she was an anti-war activist, home video fitness maven, feminist and Ted Turner's former trophy wife, Jane Fonda was a Hollywood sex kitten. In this surrealistic bit of Sci-Fi fluff, she plays French comic book heroine Barbarella, whose apparent mission is to free the galaxy by sleeping her way across the solar system. Starring Jane Fonda, John Phillip Law, David Hemmings, and Milo O'Shea. (120 min, Science Fiction, 1968, TV-PG)

AFN 10 P.M.

SATURDAY, MAR. 31

Ernest: Scared Stupid - Lovable goof Ernest P. Worrell is back in action, and this time out the inept handyman has loosed a villainous troll buried long ago by his less-dim ancestors. Starring Jim Varney, Eartha Kitt, Shay Astar, and Austin Nagler. (120 min. Comedy, 1991, TV-PG) AFN 3:20 A.M.

SUNDAY, APR.1

The Rugrats Movie (click to enlarge) One-year-old Tommy Pickles, along with his friends Chuckie, Phil and Lil and his older cousin Angelica, face the wide world on their own when they get lost in a forest while trying to retrieve Tommy's newborn brother Dil. America's most popular diaper-clad TV stars toddle their way to the big screen in this movie version of the popular Nickelodeon cartoon series. Featuring the voices of Elizabeth Daily, Christine Cavanaugh, Kath Soucie, and Cheryl Chase. (100 min. Cartoon, 1998, TV-G) AFN 1 P.M.

Back To The Future II - Just as he's adjusting to the present day his first journey to the past created, Marty McFly is recruited once again by Doc Brown - this time for a trip into the future. Starring Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Lea Thompson, and Thomas F. Wilson. (120, Science Fiction Comedy, 1989, TV-PG) AFN 10 P.M.

*Movies are subject to change without notice.

Sweet November (PG-13: for sexual content and language) Drama; Keanu Reeves & Charlize Theron (114 min.) Sara meets Nelson at the DMV. Nelson wants only to be left alone to continue on the fast track of his career, but Sara is drawn to him. She makes him an offer to be her November, the man who will live with her for one month. Nelson accepts and when he begins to realize what he's been missing in his career-centered world, he finds that Sara has secrets of her own.

Monkeybone (PG-13: for crude humor and some nudity) Comedy; Brendon Fraser & Bridget Fonda (102 min.) Cartoonist Stu Miley falls into a coma and becomes imprisoned in a bizarre fantasy world called Down Town. There he must figure out how to escape back to the real world, while dealing with his mischievous animated alter ego, Monkeybone.

The Wedding Planner (PG-13: for language and sexual humor) Romantic Comedy; Jennifer Lopez & Matthew McConaughey (104 min.) A peppy career woman with her own wedding planning business is great at what she does and can turn any wedding into the perfect romantic event. But this time, things are very different-she meets the man of her dreams on her way to an important meeting with a new client, only to find out later that Mr. Right is her client's fiancé.

Saving Silverman (PG-13: for crude and sexual humor, language and thematic material) Romantic Comedy; Jason Biggs & Amanda Peet (92 min.) A group of young guys will do anything to save their friend from marrying the wrong girl, even if it means kidnapping his ex-girlfriend-his true love-in order to bring them back together.

Head Over Heels (PG-13: for sexual content, crude humor and language) Romantic Comedy; Monica Potter & Freddie Prinze Jr. (87 min.) After moving in with a quartet of models, a young woman falls for the seemingly perfect guy who lives across the street. But when she thinks she sees him commit a murder and the police don't believe her, she sets out to find the truth with the help of her new roommates.

Valentine (R: for strong horror violence & language) Horror; Marley Shelton & David Boreanaz (97 min.) When four friends begin to receive morbid Valentine's Day cards, they know that someone out there is stalking them...someone they each spurned in the past who is out for revenge. And, February 14th is the day they'll get everything they deserve...and more.

PRAYERS

Prayer to the Blessed Virgin, (never known to fail). Oh, most beautiful flower on Mr. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother. Oh, Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh show me herein you are my Mother. Oh, Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to the (3x).

Holy Mother in place this cause in your hands (3x). Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal; you who gave me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evil against me, that in all instances in life you are with me. I want this short prayer to thank you for all things as you confirm once again I never want to be separated from you in the Eternal Glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. The person must say this prayer three consecutive days. After 3 days the request will be granted. This prayer must be published after the favor is granted. Amen Jess López.

taminated and all the aircraft's food and trash incinerated. The aircraft's inside walkways and any offloaded cargo is also decontaminated.

"This adds an extra step [to the process of bringing in aircraft] and it added an extra hour to the process of getting [the C-130] airborne again," said Pieper.

Although the decontamination process – more stringent than those followed at Spanish civilian airports – keeps affected aircraft on the ground longer, base officials don't expect the requirement will affect base operations much.

"We get very little traffic coming in from these locations, so we don't see this requirement affecting our mission here that much," said Lt. Cmdr. Erik Koonce, assistant air operations officer.

Foot-and-mouth disease is a severe, highly communicable viral disease that affects cattle, pigs, sheep, goats, deer, and other cloven-hooved animals. Foot and Mouth Disease is characterized by fever and blister-like lesions on the tongue and lips, in the mouth, on the teats, and between the claws. Many affected animals recover, but the disease leaves them debilitated. It causes severe losses in the production of meat and milk.

Because it spreads widely and rapidly and because it has grave economic as well as physical consequences, FMD is one of the animal diseases that livestock owners dread most.

The Rota Tiburones Swim Club attended the 2001 European Forces Swim League (EFSL) Championship in Munich, Germany on March 4. A total of 18 teams throughout the European theater attended the season ending championship. The Tiburones represented Rota with 18 swimmers earning 38 medals in total and placing 7th overall. The Following swimmers should be congratulated: Taylor Brommel (8), Vanessa Cardona (11), Elizabeth Chenevey (12), Sam Chenevey (8), Carolina Diaz Garcia (11), Miriam Diaz Garcia (16), Margaret Gale (11), Ashley

Gore (9), Kevin Jimenez (11), Helen Lutz (11), Juleen Robberstad (18), Shannon Sasso (9), Amanda Schlytter (13), Matthew Schlytter (10), Matthew Smeby (9), Jamie Soler (12), and Matthew Solomon (8). Two of our swimmers Matthew Solomon and Carolina Diaz Garcia set new league records. Carolina Diaz Garcia, along with Matthew Schlytter, took first place in the Pentathlon competition for the season. Matthew Schlytter also earned the high point award for the Championship for the 10 year old boys. This is an impressive performance for our inexperienced swim club. All the swimmers posted at least one "personal best" time in one or more events that they swam.

The EFSL was invited to attend the 23rd International Solar Challenge Cup 2001 in Munich, Germany on the 17th and 18th of March. A total of 84 teams and over 2500 swimmers from Germany, Malta, Great Britain, Hungary, Slovakia, Sweden and Yugoslavia attended. The EFSL team made up of 11 swimmers from Bamberg, Hoenfels, Kaiserlautern, Rota, and Wuerzburg earned 14 medals placing them in 13th place overall. Two swimmers, Amanda and Matthew Schlytter, represented Rota Swim Club at the meet earning personnel best times and two bronze medals for the EFSL team. Way to go Rota!
